NEVER LOST ITS NOVELTY

Why Thomas Bailey Aldrich So Highly Valued His Letter From Professor S. E. Morse.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale used to tell of an amusing letter once sent by Thomas Bailey Aldrich to Prof. E. S. Morse, whose handwriting was very illegible, says Human Life. According to Doctor Hale, Mr. Aldrich wrote as follows:

"My Dear Morse: It was very pleasing to get your recent letter. Perhaps I should have been more pleased had I been able to decipher the same. I have not been able to master any of it beyond the date, which I knew, and the signature, which I guessed at. There is a singular and perpetual charm in a letter of yours; it never grows old, it never loses its novelty. One can say to one's self every morning: 'Here's that letter of Morse's, I haven't read it yet. I think I'll take another shy at it today, and maybe I shall, in the course of a few months, be able to make out what it means by those 's' that look like 'w's and those 'f's that have no eyebrows. Other letters are read and thrown away, but yours are kept forever—unread. One of them will last a reasonable man a lifetime. Admiringly yours,
"T. B. ALDRICH."

IT HAS COME TO THIS.

"What is an affinity, mother?"
"Hush, dear. Something not in the least proper."

ANCIENT CHURCH CUSTOMS.

In the age of witchcraft and superstition it was believed that the fairies built the old kirks in Glasgow and that they had a right to them; so said Mr. W. B. Paterson, lecturing before the Old Glasgow club. The accommodation afforded the parishioners was very different from the present luxurious age. There were no pews in Scottish kirks before the reign of Charles I. The people had to bring their stools with them and those that did not do this simply sat down on the floor. For the evening service parishioners likewise brought candlesticks and candles. On the question of the separation of the sexes Mr. Paterson mentioned the interesting fact that there still existed a church in the city where this rule was observed.—London Globe.

CONVENIENT OBUSINESS.

A little Boston boy who has had a German nurse and a German governess since the time he could first toddle, and who speaks German as fluently as he does English, misbehaved himself the other day and was soundly scolded by his grandfather, who speaks no language but that of Boston. When, finally, there was a pause in the grandparental eloquence he boy looked up calmly and said: "Grandpa, I have not been able to understand you. You will have to speak to me in German."

FAITHFUL POSTAL WORKERS.

The government has no employees more faithful and none upon whose personal honesty more depends than the thousands of postmasters and postal clerks in our nearly 60,000 post offices. When one thinks of the countless letters in flimsy envelopes dropped into mail boxes and post offices, with no protection, except a two-cent stamp and a thin piece of paper, against the violation of secrets the exposure of which might ruin a business, one realizes how much depends on the personal integrity of those who handle the mails.

KNOW BETTER.

"Why do you waste your time loafing in the streets?" demanded the missionary-minded gentleman of the hobo. "Don't you know time is money?"
"Don't you believe it, boss," came the answer. "I've done time enough to be a millionaire."

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If you saw a row of apples, everyone differing in size, ripeness and color, and all for sale at the same price, wouldn't you choose the best? Why not do the same thing when you buy fire insurance? The cost of insurance is substantially the same in all agencies, but what you get for your money varies as much as the apples in the row.

Choose then HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY. For Nearly Three Quarters of a Century it has paid every loss, big and little. It's reputation is unexcelled. It is the best fire insurance apple of them all, and its policies cost no more than those in agencies of inferior quality. Why not use the same judgment in buying insurance that you would in such a trivial matter as buying fruit at a fruit stand?

RELIGIOUS

The Rev. I. C. Hunt will preach at Springfield the third Sunday in July in the morning and at Owingsville at night.

Well, of course, why should such a meeting not do good. Good seats, lights and singing in the open air these days will help some. The minister, E. H. Koch, has Evangelist Wm. Ross Lloyd assisting in what promises to be Bethel's great meeting. The Christian church at Bethel has done well to get out of doors, and we are not surprised to hear that they are having the largest audiences they have ever had at this stage of the meeting. Mr. Lloyd preaches most kindly and doesn't fight the other churches.

Webster's Most Profitable Book.

"Noah Webster," says the book of copyrights, "probably got more for his spelling book than was ever paid for any other book in the United States. We are unable to state the entire sum that was paid him for the copyright of that little book, but think it must have been more than $50,000. His large dictionary, a work on which he spent the greatest part of his life, did not yield him a tenth part of the profits of his spelling book."

American Women Smokers.
It is said there are two million women smokers in the United States.

Learning.

Learning maketh young men temperate, is the comfort of old age, standeth for wealth with poverty, and serving as an ornament to riches.—Cicero.

Triumph of Nature.

There is not so contemptible a plant or animal that does not confound the most enlarged understanding.—Locke.

No Sign of Greatness.
